

WE NEED YOUR FEEDBACK

The Employer survey is very important. Your responses provide opportunities for meaningful changes in the credential program as a result from your feedback. Unlike other surveys on topics of general interest and curiosity, this evaluation leads to improvements in teaching credential programs that make our future graduates better prepared and more effective as K-12 teachers.

Please complete and submit your thoughts about how well California State University prepared this person to begin a teaching career under your leadership. Remember, your answers will be confidential and anonymous. A professional evaluator in the CSU Educator Quality (EdQ) Center will combine your answers with those from other graduates of your credential program to prepare an aggregated report for our Dean of Education. No individual names and no individual answers will be shared or reported. If you cannot do this now, please find 15 minutes before June 30.

Submitting your survey enters you into a raffle

To improve participation, the EdQ Center offers all employment supervisors submitting a completed survey an entry into a raffle for one grand prize for $1,500 towards a conference or travel stipend and twenty runners-up will receive $50 gift cards. If you assesses the preparation of two or more graduates, you will be rewarded with a separate lottery entry for each teacher assessed.

About us

EdQ Center helps the CSU Schools and Colleges of Education improve their programs and results through informed analysis and insightful decisions. Through ongoing surveys we help campuses stay connected to the needs of CSU-trained educators and the schools and systems that hire them. Plus, we partner with campuses to grow their capacity to apply this data and continuously enhance their approaches and supports for candidates pursuing teaching credentials.
